

Lars Burmeister

Berlin

l.burmeister@co13.eu

Motivation

Using our common sense and careful intuition to help people and organisations reach their goals better, learn together and grow sustainably, while fulfilling our social responsibility, that's what systemic consulting is all about in my view. Facilitated by the quiet courage to go our own way.

Focus areas

Expert for complex, holistic and especially sustainable change processes with many years of experience. Strategy and organisational development, large group interventions and executive coaching.

Positions

- Commercial apprenticeship
- Graduated in Communication Management
- Gained additional qualification as a coach and trainer as well as a systemic consultant
- Various management positions in the financial and service industries
- Head of HR and Personnel Development at a major German bank, responsible for the overall architecture of comprehensive change management processes with systemic stakeholder management tools and methods