

Martin Hillebrand

Bremen

m.hillebrand@co13.eu

Motivation

In consulting, I am fascinated by cooperation and competition. As in bicycle racing, it requires leadership, intelligent cooperation (slipstream), inherent energy and sportsmanship. And sometimes the courage to race ahead.

Focus areas

Expert for designing and supporting complex and sustainable change processes as well as developing and in particular implementing strategy concepts. Trains change managers and consultants, also internationally.

Positions

- Graduated in Psychology (Diplom-Psychologe Würzburg, Albany/NY, Oldenburg)
- Trained in person-centred psychotherapy according to Rogers
- Provides long-term training for systemic consultants
- Worked in a management consulting firm
- Personnel and organisational development in an expanding multi utility company
- Further training in strategic personnel management and organisational development